WHY ME

Written by Aydin Peter M.

If you ask why me,
I'll tell you that the same way we live differently is why it is me.

If you ask why me,
I will show you why a fish is destined to live in water
and a human is destined to live on land.

If you ask why me,
I will give you the reason:
why the sun and moon shine when it is their time.

If you ask why me,
I will still clarify to you
why there are two genders and not one in creation.

If you ask why me,
I will give you a reason:
why a torch is valued only in the dark and not in the light.

So, you see?
This is why it matters.
So do not compare your life with another;
the time to be you is also coming.
Keep carrying your purpose.

THE REASON I LIVE

Life is just a way to death,
the path from which we all cannot escape,
because it is designed so by God's design.

Just like the sun rises and sets,
so is the life of us all.

Others rise by being born,
and others set by death.

I am to live how I was purposed to live, and I want to make myself the kind of person who will inspire others.

I will still live to inspire generations,
drawing inspiration from legendary old people like Shakespeare.

That is the reason I live.
